INTRODUCTION

Truly "the lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage" (Psa. 16:6). A study of one's family history brings to light many things-- some good, some not so good. However, the most outstanding is an appreciation of one's godly heritage. One man and one woman are responsible for the blessings or judgment of God on more than 1000 direct descendants in only one century. Our ancestors brought upon us the blessings of God. Will the thousands who follow us be able to look back upon their heritage and praise God?

When, in 1948, a Brenneman reunion was first talked about, I was rather amused, because I did not think there were enough Brennemens to make a reunion worthwhile. When Mother started telling me who all was involved, I became quite interested. By the time of the reunion the following year I had prepared a tree showing the ten main branches of the family and their descendants. This tree (on a large window blind) was usually put up at the biannual reunions and some effort was made to keep it up-to-date.

In 1962, while preparing to leave Honduras for furlough, I received a letter announcing the reunion in September and asking me to bring the tree up-to-date. I began to think of the possibility of making a more comprehensive record. The tree contains only direct descendants and first names. On it, it is impossible to record the members of the family by marriage, full names and dates of birth and death. While making contacts for information to bring the tree up-to-date, I realized that if a more comprehensive record was to be made, now was the time to do it. At the time of the reunion we handed out questionnaires in order to gather the information still lacking.

Many of the questionnaires had been returned by the time I entered Goshen College Biblical Seminary for second semester in January, 1963. Thanks to Professor C. J. Dyck, I was able to continue working on this project and use it as my term paper in Mennonite History.

INTRODUCTION

I wish to thank you for your immediate response to the questionnaires. Very little correspondence was needed because of this splendid response. I have mentioned those who have given information in their respective family histories. I should also like to give special thanks to Ronald Zehr for duplicating these pages, to Amos Brenneman for having the copies of the deed made to include in this book, to my parents for their help and patience in gathering much of this information, and to the many others who have answered many questions and have helped in any other way.

I present this history and genealogy to you with the hope that you will share in some of the enjoyment that I have received while working it out. I have learned to know many of you personally through this and value your friendship. May we be truly thankful for our "goodly heritage".

HISTORY

The history (especially dates) of Jacob and Lydia Brenneman is rather scant. Their ten children are listed on page 4. On page 5 I have reproduced, to a certain extent, the tree that has been presented at the reunions. However, this one includes only the first and second generations. To add any more would make it impossible to distinguish the names.

There is a history (sometimes very brief, sometimes more lengthy) of each of the ten children. Each history includes a listing of their children (second generation) for easy reference. Since Joseph Brenneman's family occupies only one page, this listing is omitted in his family.

GENEALOGY

The genealogy of each of the ten children is listed consecutively after each family history (see Table of Contents). The numbering in the genealogies is as follows:

First generation -- no numbers except on page 4

Second generation -- I, II, III, etc.

Third generation -- A., B., C., etc.

Fourth generation -- 1., 2., 3., etc.

Fifth generation -- a., b., c., etc.

Sixth generation -- (i) -- there is only one (see page 18)

This numbering is followed consistently in all genealogies. Each person (that is, a person listed twice because of intermarriage) is not numbered consistently by the same number. Duplications of names are indicated only in the general index where all page numbers are listed on which a given name appears.

Each page bears a title so that you know at a glance which of the ten families is treated on each page. In the listing of family units the direct descendant is always listed first rather than the head of the family.

The births and deaths are listed in columns which allows plenty of space to fill in date of death for each person listed. There is some space between each family unit to allow for the addition of some additional children. Use these spaces to keep your own family record up-to-date. Places of birth, marriage and death are not listed. Addresses of family units at the time of writing gives us a fairly good idea of the location of most of the persons listed.

Where it was known or drawn to our attention we have indicated those of the family who are ministers, teachers and nurses.

With only a few exceptions I have used the dates and spellings given on the questionnaires. In many instances I checked doubtful dates and spellings with the persons involved. Where I failed to do so, please pardon the oversight. I can hardly hope not to have made typographical and copy errors; so I ask your forbearance.

MAP

On page vi you will find a map showing the locations of the residences of Jacob and Lydia and their children. You will find the key to the map on page v. In the histories you will notice that the family lived in three different counties. However, their residences were no more than a few miles apart because of the proximity of Perth, Waterloo and Oxford at this point. The oldest daughter, Katherine and her husband, John Jantzi were the farthest removed from the settlement but were still in Perth County.

DEED

On the page after the map is a reproduction of part of the deed of the land sold by Jacob to the East Zorra and Wilmot congregations. At the bottom right hand corner appears Jacob's signature. The x with Lydia's name would indicate that someone wrote her name for her. It also seems that the name was spelled "Brenaman" or "Brennanan".

Every member of the family by direct descent, marriage or adoption is supposed to be listed alphabetically in the final index. Persons mentioned in the histories or genealogies who are not members of the family are not indexed.

GUIDE TO THE USE OF THIS BOOK

Behind each person's name you will find the number or numbers of pages on which that name appears.

Married women are indexed under their married name, but their maiden name is given in brackets. Only first names are used in the index except where the use of the second name might help to identify those of identical names.

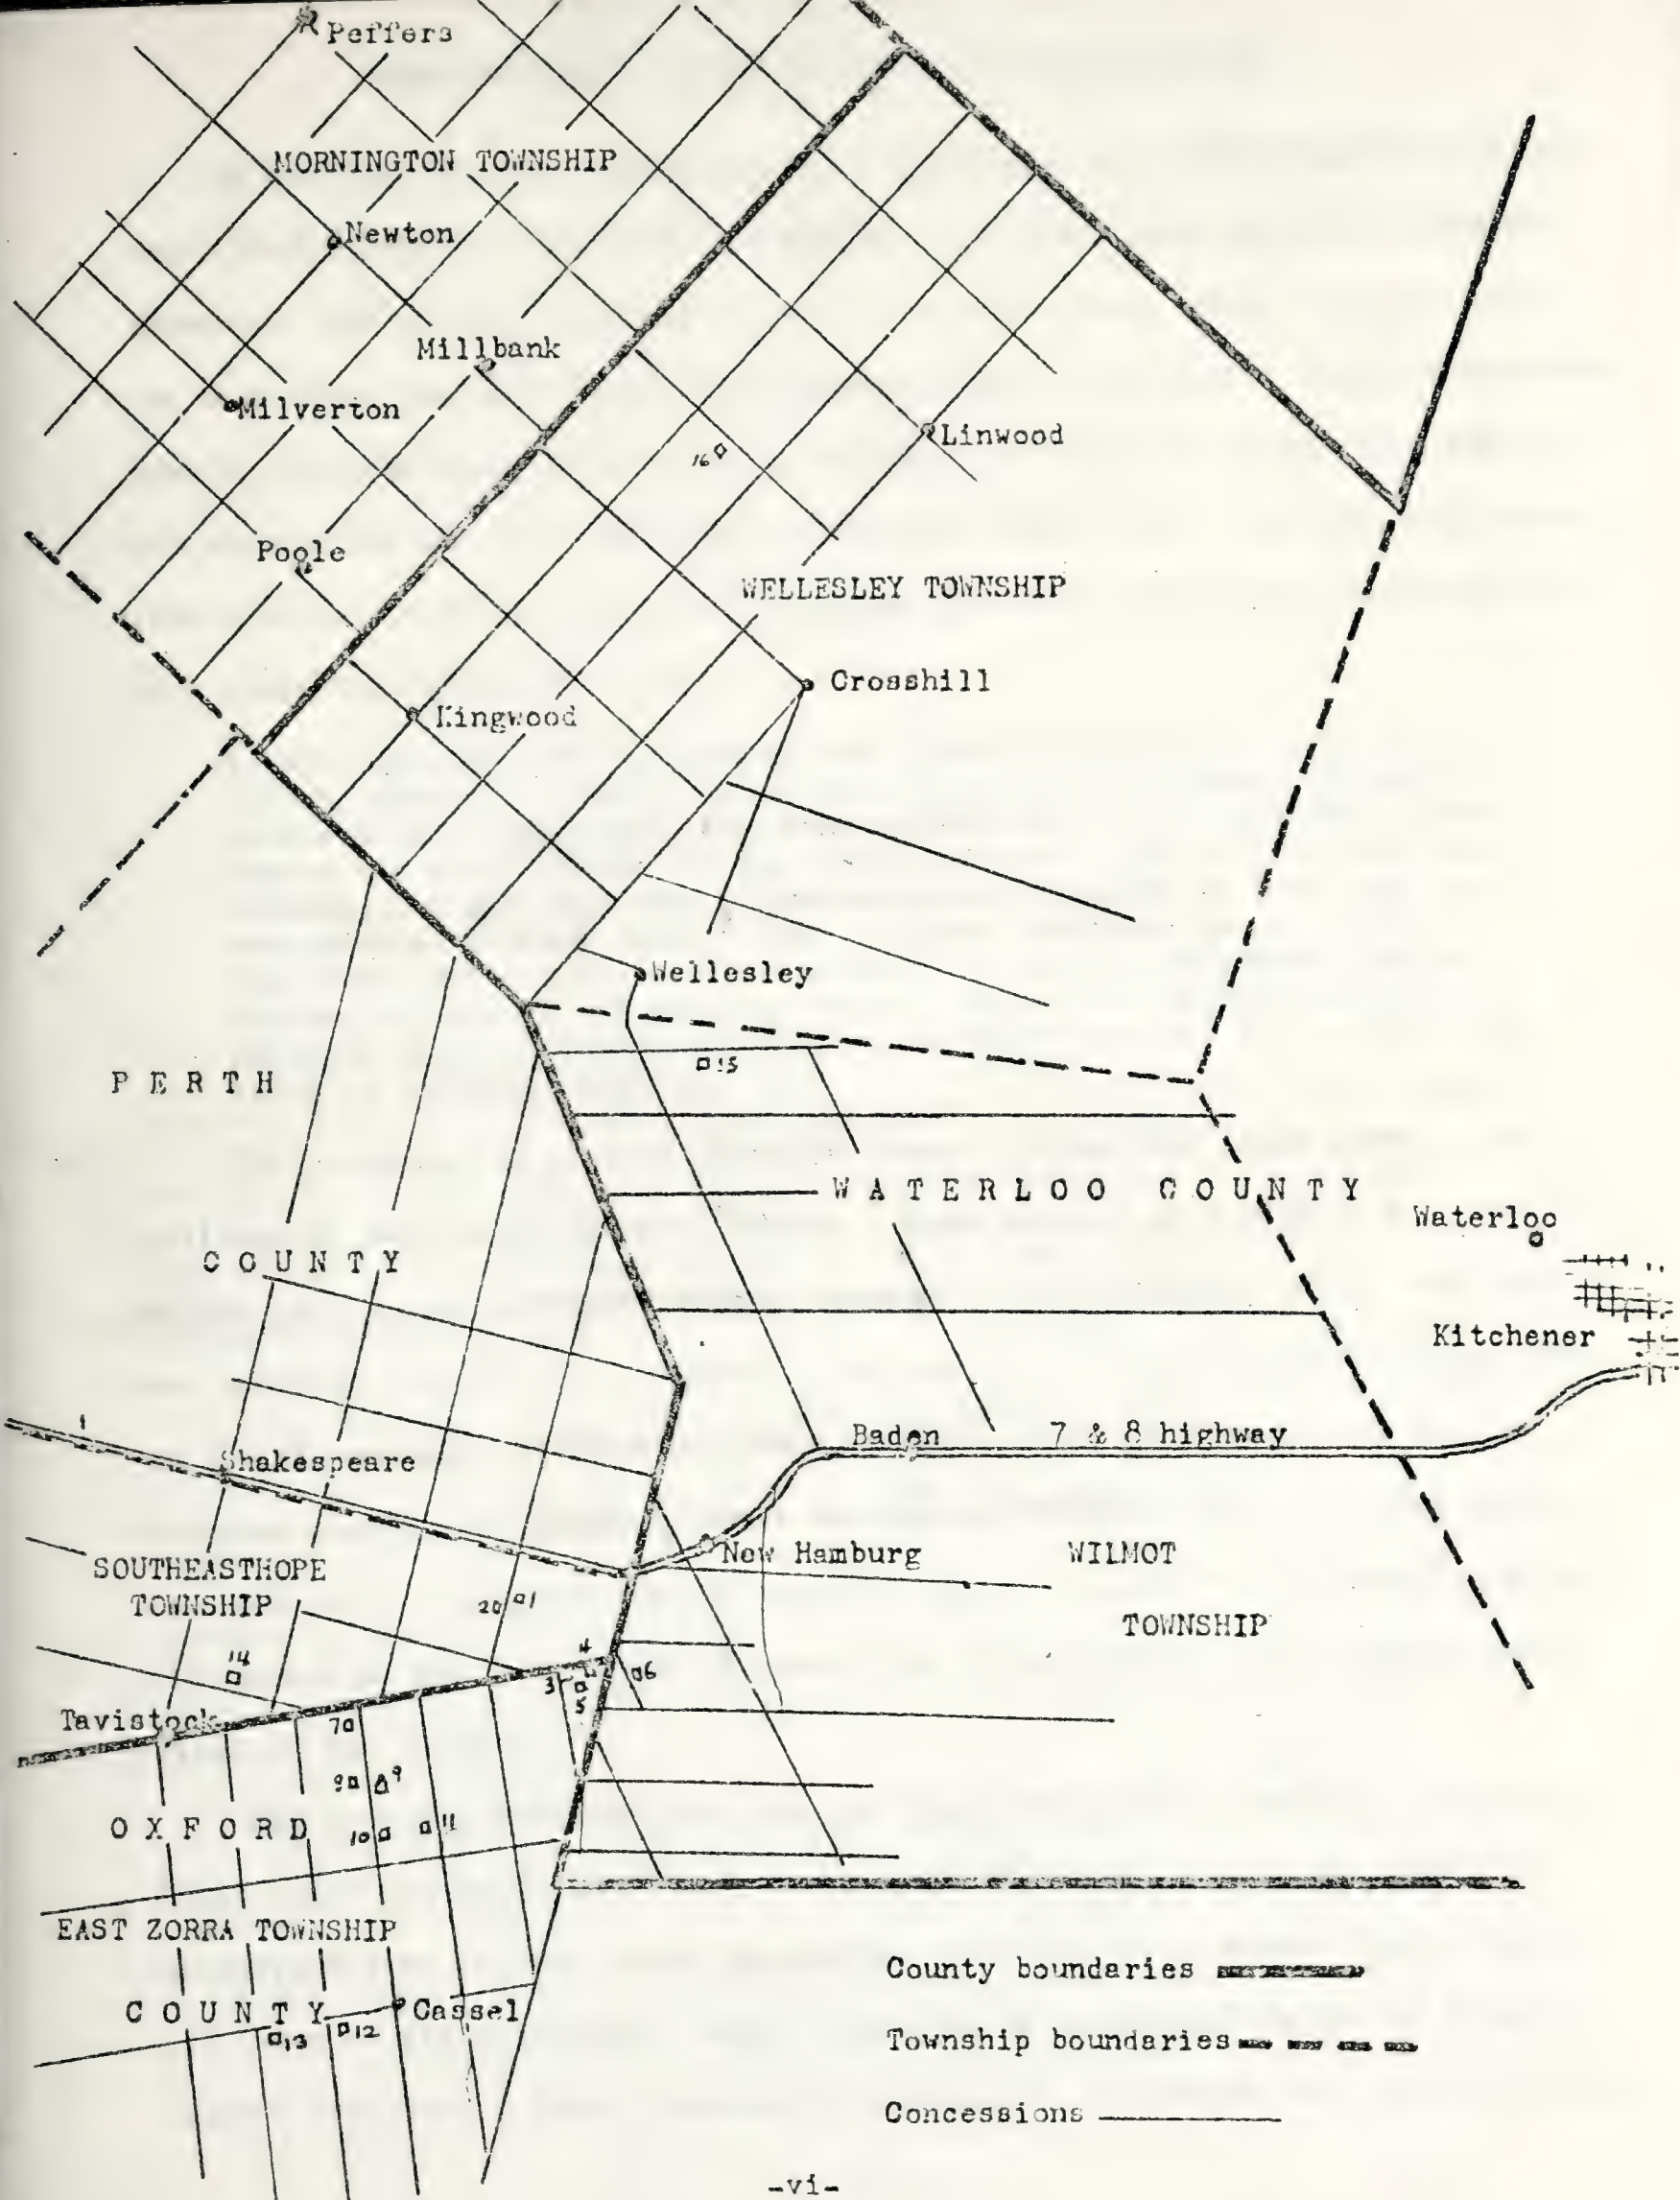

The last names are listed only once (alphabetically). All first names are then arranged alphabetically under the corresponding last names.

JACOB AND LYDIA (LEONARD) BRENNEMAN FAMILY HISTORY

At the time of other Amish Mennonite migrations from Alsace Lorraine to Ontario (1826 - 1850) a widow with her daughter and three sons migrated to Wilmot Township. Her husband had been killed in the old country while trying to close the barn doors during a storm. The daughter married a Helmuth. Their descendants probably include Moses Helmuth of New Hamburg. At the time of this writing we are not certain who are the descendants of the two oldest sons. The following excerpt from a letter from Amos Brenneman (youngest grandson of Jacob and Lydia) may offer some clues that might be useful:

In the Year 1919 while visiting with a Daniel Brenneman living near Albany, Oregon, I talked with a Mrs. Yantzi over 80 years old, mother-in-law to Mr. Brenneman. She told me that she had met the three Brennemans and their sister who had come to Ontario with their mother from Germany, and she said that all Brennemans in Ontario at that time were descendants of these three. This was also confirmed by my father. The Daniel mentioned above was a cousin of his and had moved from Wellesley to Nebraska and then to Oregon. Daniel was the father of Moses, for many years a minister in Oregon and Jacob (whom we met on this same trip) in Toffield, Alberta.

The youngest son of this widow was Jacob. He married Lydia Leonard who is believed to have migrated from Ireland. Jacob settled on a farm (lot 5, con. 2) at the eastern end of SouthEasthope Township in Perth County. Jacob and Lydia are probably buried in the cemetery, the land for which was purchased from them by the Wilmot and East Zorra Churches in 1872. (See copy of part of deed on previous page). The cemetery bears no marker. In about 1920 a careful record was made before leveling off the terrain, but the record has not been found among the papers of the late, David Brenneman nor in possession of the present custodians of the cemetery.

Six sons and four daughters made up Jacob and Lydia's family. A record of their names and births was found in the home of Daniel, the third oldest, in manuscript form (in the German language). If there was a family Bible, we are not aware of its existence. Hence, there are no known records of the dates of Jacob's and Lydia's birth, marriage or death. It is thought that they were still living in 1887 when their youngest son was married. Since the oldest son was born in 1843, no doubt, Jacob was born in 1822 or earlier. They probably migrated in the late 1820's or early 1830's.

It was in Jacob's barn that the last service of the East Zorra congregation was held before using the new meeting house on the 16th line of East Zorra. Daniel's father-in-law, Peter Zehr (usually referred to as Dr. Zehr) preached the sermon. It was about Nebachadnezzar who, because of sin, was lowered from the status of king to that of beast. Jacob's second youngest son, Christian came to own the home farm. After Christian's death it passed to his son-in-law, Joseph Steirman, then to Joseph's son-in-law, Reuben Kennel. It is now in possession of Daniel Zehr who is not a descendent of the Brenneman family.

The first generation (Jacob and Lydia's children) numbered 10. All of them were members of the East Zorra Mennonite church and are buried either on the 19th or 16th line cemeteries except Katherine (see page 23). The second generation numbered 46. Fourteen are living at the time of writing. They are Anna (Brenneman) Peterson, pgs. 8,9,22; Jacob B. Jantzi, pgs. 23,24,35; Sarah (Brenneman) Ruby, pgs. 63,65; Simon Roi, pgs. 68,71; Norman Roi, pgs. 68,73; Ida Brenneman, pg. 74; Magdalena (Brenneman) Steinman, pgs. 75,76; Sarah (Brenneman) Steinman, pgs. 75,76; Catherine (Schwartzentruber) Leis, pgs. 77,78; Catherine (Brenneman) Kropf, pgs. 82,83; Lydia (Brenneman) Bender, pgs. 82,84; Amos Brenneman, pgs. 1, 79,82,85; Annie (Brenneman) Zehr, pgs. 82,86; Lavina (Brenneman) Brenneman, pgs. 82,88. (These page numbers do not include those of the introductory and index parts of this book.)

(No claim is made that the numbers in this paragraph are absolutely correct, but they are approximate.) The third generation numbers 142, the fourth generation 459, the fifth generation 462 and the sixth generation only 1 (page 18). The total number of direct descendants of Jacob and Lydia is 1135. The total number of names listed in the genealogy is about 1437 with 64 names appearing twice because of intermarriage. The total number who have died is 131 and the number living is 1306. The time since the birth of Jacob and Lydia's oldest son, John, to the present is a period of 120 years.

Jacob and Lydia had six sons. However, Jacob and Christian had only daughters. Joseph had only one son who grew to manhood, and he had only one adopted daughter. John had only two sons who grew up, and they were never married. Daniel had one son and David had one son. Through them we have today 21 living male descendants bearing the Brenneman name. (There are other Brennemens in the family who are not Brennemens through Jacob and Lydia). One adopted male child also bears the Brenneman name (page 52).

The first two generations present an interesting study in names. The first generation with their spouses (a total of 22) give us only 12 different names. Magdalena and Katherine (or Catherine) appear 4 times each, John 3 times, Daniel and Christian 2 times each, and the rest only once each. Out of a total of 106 names of the first two generations we have only 37 different names. It is little wonder that they had to resort to nicknames to distinguish between them.

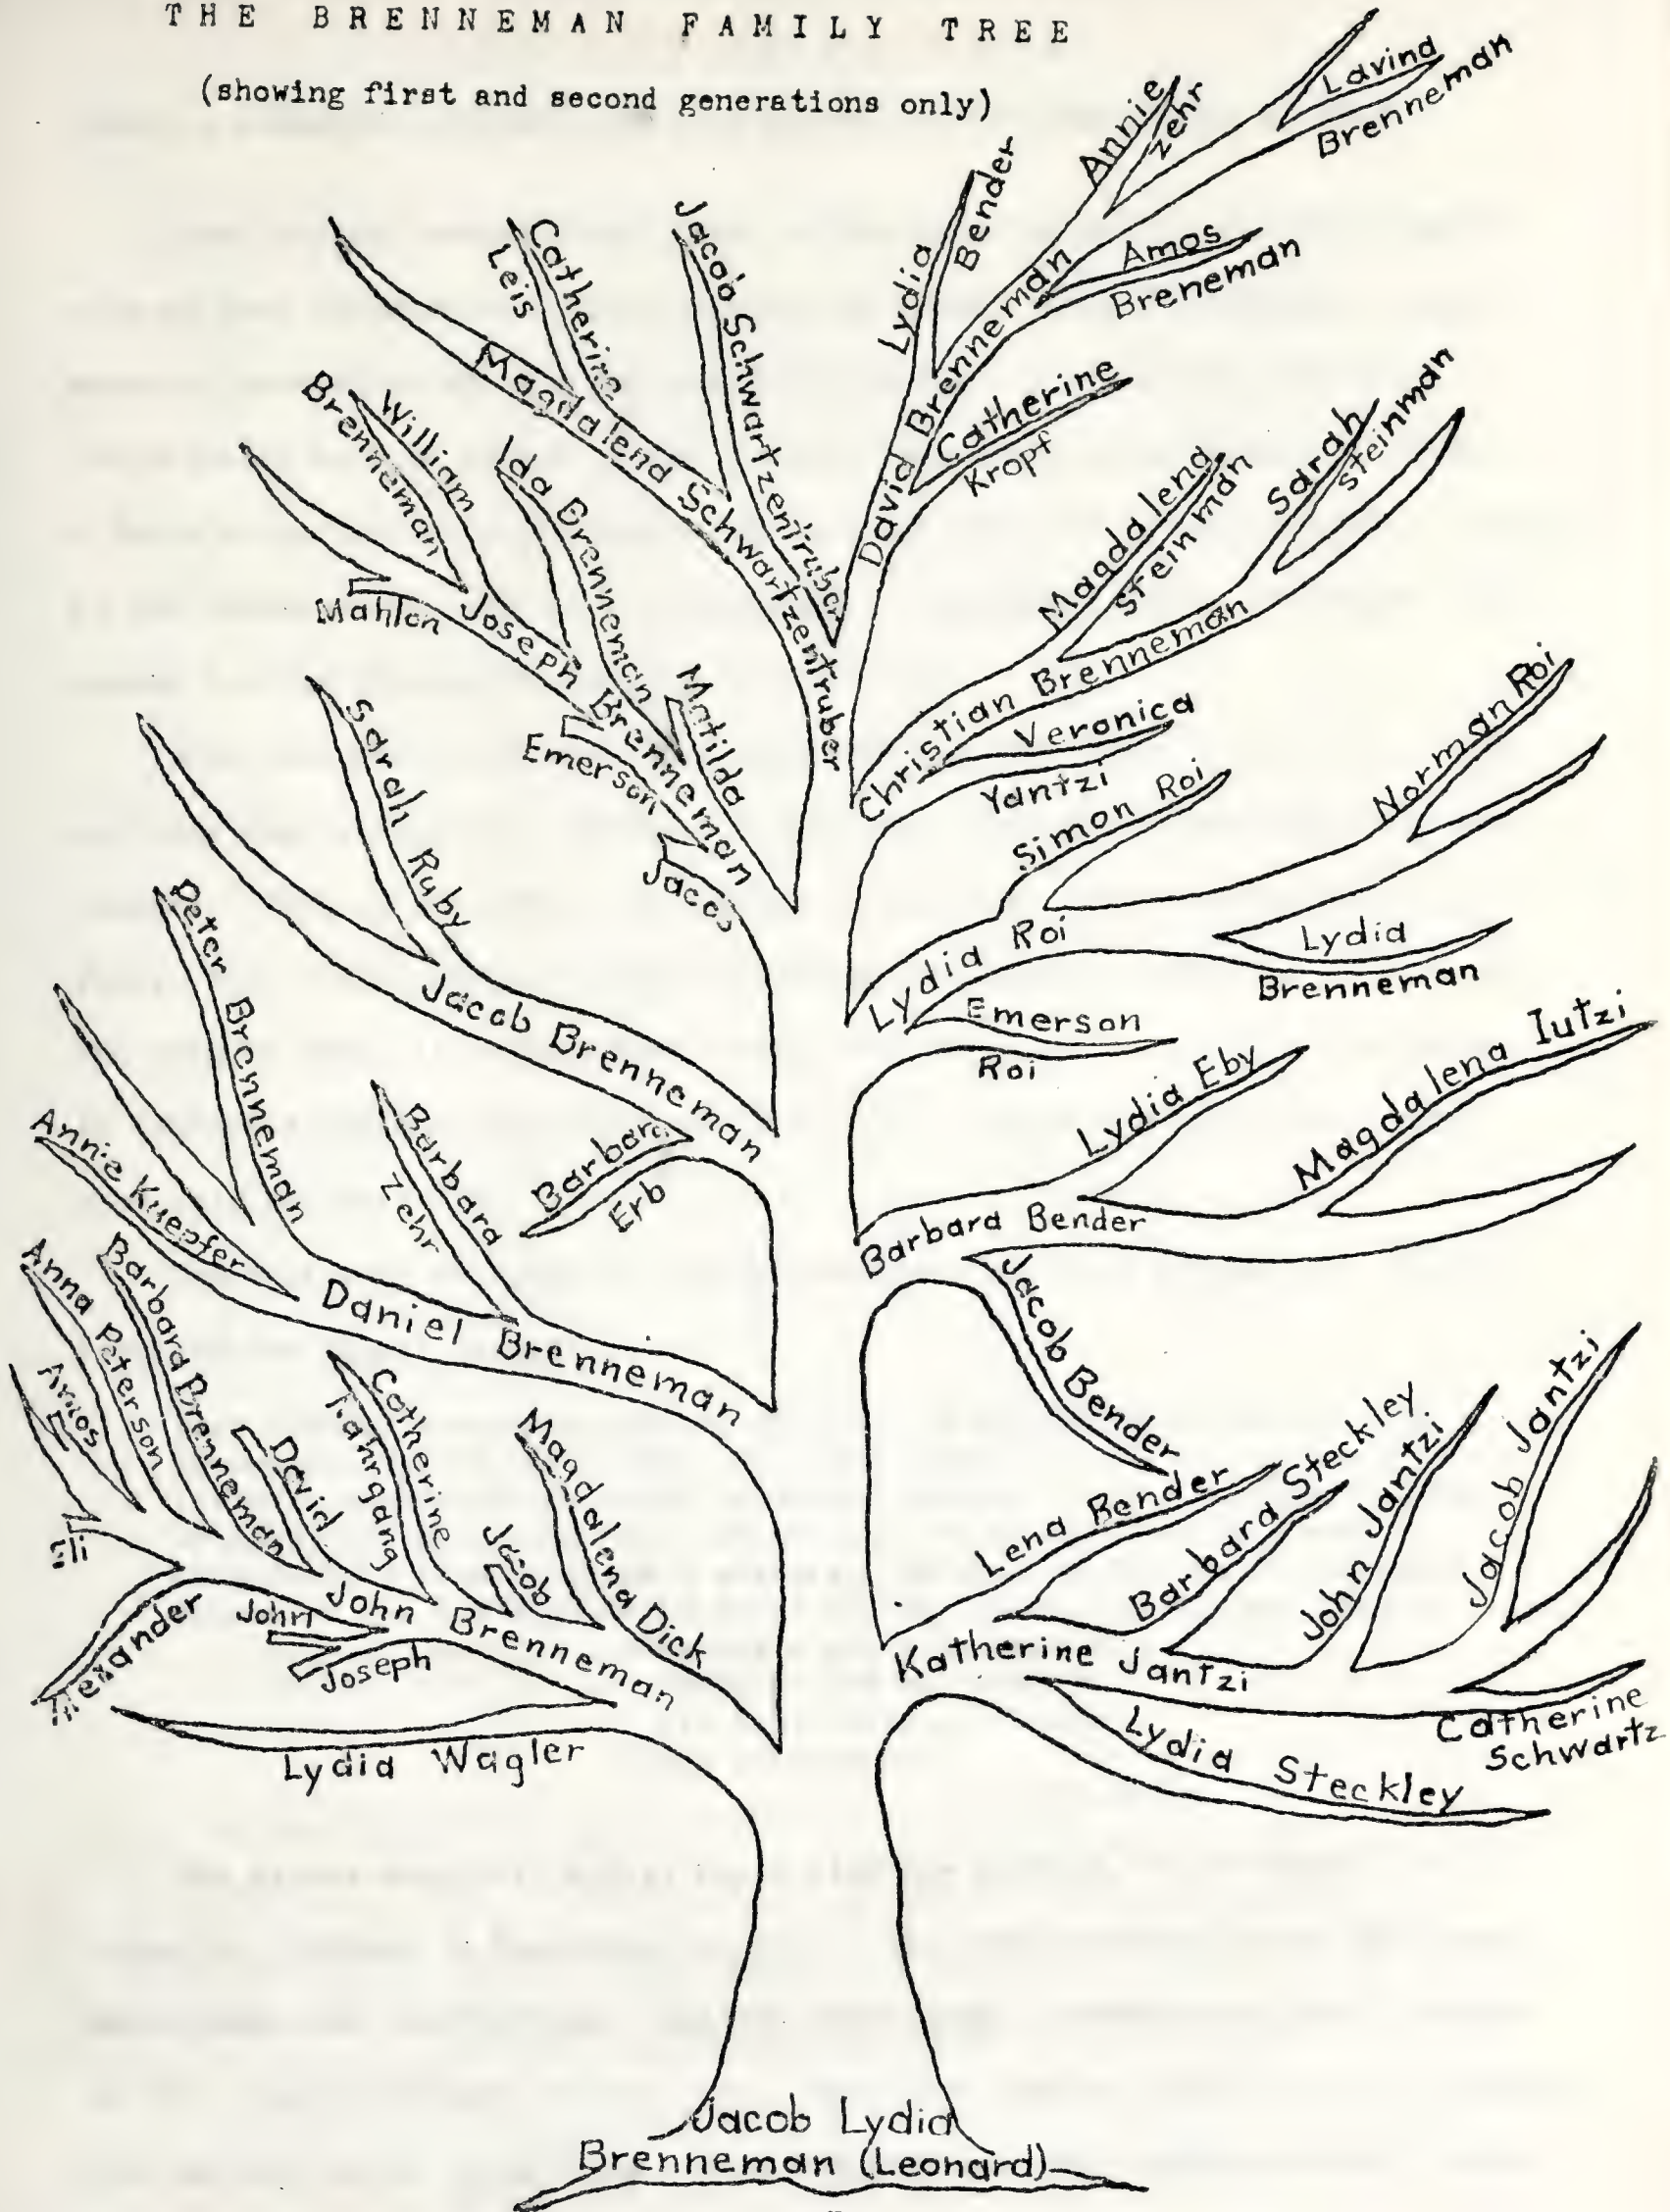

All of the first generation of Brennemens were settled on farms. The majority of the second generation are also farmers. Subsequent generations show increasing numbers living in town. Only a few, however, have gone into professions such as teaching and nursing.

THE BRENNEMAN FAMILY TREE

(showing first and second generations only)

JOHN L., MAGDALENA (SCHRAG) AND ANNA (WITTRIG) BRENNEMAN FAMILY HISTORY

John (called Hannes) first lived on his father's farm on the 19th concession of East Zorra which is now occupied by Serenus Schwartzentruber. Later he moved to concession 15 near the corner of the town line and the 16th line. While living here he served as day laborer. The house is no longer standing. A few old apple trees still remain in the area where the house once stood. Right at the corner there used to be a house and a blacksmith shop. The house still stands but the blacksmith shop has been removed.

John lost his first wife, Magdalena Schrag, when their first child, Lydia was less than a year old. Eleven children were born to his marriage with Anna Wittrig. Five of them died very young. Among these were twin boys, Joseph and John. When three years old they contracted diphtheria. John died on Apr. 30, and when he died, it is said that Joseph turned toward the wall and wouldn't be comforted until he also died six days later. David was killed by a train when only 23 years old.

The following obituary of John L. Brenneman is found in the Jan. 23, 1919 issue of the Gospel Herald:

Bro. John L. Brenneman died at the home of his daughter, Sister J.R. Brenneman, Cassel, Ont., Dec. 23, 1918; aged 75 y. 13 d. He was a faithful member of the Amish Mennonite Church. He was married to Anna Wittrig, who preceeded him 8 years ago. He is survived by 1 son, 5 daughters, 3 brothers, and 3 sisters. Service in East Zorra Mennonite Church by the brethren Chris Kropf and Dan Jutzi. Text, Rev. 14:13.

Father's place is vacant,
To be filled no more;
His last words are spoken
Now forevermore.

by a daughter

The oldest daughter, Lydia, moved with her husband, Jacob Wagler, to Wellesley in 1902 and to Mornington in 1917. They were members of the Old Order Amish Mennonite congregation. Most of their large posterity are still members of that church and live in that area. Magdalena (called Martha) and her husband, William Dick lived in Illinois. They had only one son. Catherine was a member of the Geiger Mennonite Church near New Hamburg. None of their posterity are members of the Mennonite Church. Isaac and his family live in Ontario. The rest live around Moline, Illinois.

Barbara was married to John R. Brenneman (not of the same family) and resided at Cassel in East Zorra. Her husband had lived in Colorado for about eight years before his marriage to Barbara. In the front cover of the family Bible, which was in the Irvin Becker home at the time this material was gathered, is found a clipping from a paper which contains a message written by John R. Brenneman. Because any written or printed material from this generation is so scarce and because of the quality of the article, I shall quote it here, although John R. is not a direct descendent of the family in which we are interested in this history.

A Voice from Colorado

Colorado is a fine country, at least here where I am. One lack however is that there are only a few members here. If more brethren and sisters were here, I would like it still better, for then we could build a house of worship and have Sunday school and preaching every Sunday. I wish some of the brethren would come out and see us in the summer. I know they would like it. It does not rain enough out here, so we irrigate in the summer. We cannot praise God enough for what He has given us. He guides us through danger and sorrow. Oh, may we that are saved pray for those that are not saved so that we may meet them in heaven and rejoice with them. May God bless those who labor for the lost ones. By their labor of love I was led to the foot of the cross, and taught to choose the way to God and heaven. The way is so sweet to me since I united with God's people one year ago last Spring. There never was a happier day in my life than the day I sealed my vow in baptism. Bro. Joseph Schlegel received me and my brother and three others. Brethren and sisters, pray for us.

John R. Brenneman

At the time of their deaths John R. and Barbara were members of the Hebron United Church. None of their family are members of the Mennonite Church. The following is an excerpt from a letter from Barbara and John's oldest son, Alvin, in response to a request for information concerning him and his family:

I attended school at S.S. No.1, East Zorra, Tavistock Continuation school, Woodstock Collegiate, and graduated from University of Toronto in Electrical Engineering in 1931 with degree of Bachelor of Applied Science.

I served with the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, Canadian Army, Northwest Europe 1939 - 1945, rank of Lt. Col. awards M.B.E., E.D. I am a Past President of Canadian Signals Association and Past Chairman, Conference of Defence Associations. I worked with Ontario Hydro from 1931 to date and am now Operations Engineer, Georgian Bay Region.

We are members of the Anglican Church. At present I am Peoples' Warden at Trinity Anglican Church, Barrie.

Alexander was not married. He is buried on the East Zorra Mennonite cemetery. The youngest daughter, Mrs. Hugo Peterson, is still living in Illinois.

For most of this information I am indebted to Simeon Jantzi, oldest son of Jacob B. Jantzi, youngest son of Katherine (Brenneman) Jantzi.

Katherine and John (called Hans) were married at Katherine's home by Bishop Joseph Ruby. They lived on the home place for one year and then bought a farm from David Bender. The farm is now occupied by Kenneth Ruby (lot 34, con. 15 of East Zorra). This would have been about 18 years before the East Zorra church was built. From history we learn that in 1866 there was a split in the Wellesley congregation over the building of a meeting house. At that time the Old Order Amish Mennonite congregation was formed.¹ About 1895 the John Jantzi family joined the Old Order congregation. In 1900 they moved from East Zorra to Mornington Township and lived with their daughter and son-in-law, Catherine and David Schwartz for about two years. They bought a farm in Wellesley Township (lot 5, con. 9) where they lived until their death. Katherine reached the age of 83 years and John 85. They had been married a little over 60 years. They are buried in the Amish Mennonite Society Cemetery, lot 15, con. 3, Wilmot.

All of Katherine and John's children were married except Jacob when they moved to Mornington. All of their children also moved with them or had moved before. All, except perhaps John, were members of the Old Order congregation. All of the girls in the Schwartz family and some in the Steckly family are still in the Old Order church. Some are members of the Lichti or Nafziger congregations. The majority are now members of the Mennonite Church. Some, of course, are members of other denominations. Allan Bender, youngest son of Lena and Dan Bender is a minister in the Wellesley church. David Jantzi, husband of Lavina Kuefer, granddaughter of Lena and Dan Bender, is minister in the Millbank church. Many of the descendants of this family still live in Mornington and Wellesley townships.

DANIEL L. AND MAGDALENA (ZEHR) BRENNEMAN FAMILY HISTORY

Daniel bought the farm (lot 6, con. 2) across the road from the home place. He married Magdalena Zehr, daughter of Dr. Peter Zehr. How much knowledge and experience he had in medicine we do not know, but he was regularly given the title "Dr.". He was also a minister in the East Zorra church. He had already been ordained in France. Although Daniel had only one son, it is among his descendants that we find most of the living males bearing the Brenneman name. Daniel's farm passed to his son, Peter, and is now owned by Sidney Roth, husband of Peter's oldest daughter, Violet.

Daniel's granddaughter, Violet, remembers him as "Doddy Brenneman", a retired farmer and family member who occupied one of the three first-floor rooms of their typical farm home. The walls, however, instead of being made of logs or bricks were made by piling planks on top of each other. The first floor contained the kitchen, which occupied half of the floor, and two bedrooms with a closed stairway in the middle of the house. At one end of the house was a summer kitchen which was connected to a wash house and wood shed by a large porch which was walled up on the north side. A wide porch with fancy green and white lattice work adorned two entire sides of the house.

In his later years Daniel no longer worked in the barn and fields but made his contribution by keeping the place in good shape. There were no loose board and holes in the fences as long as "Doddy" was around. His daughter-in-law missed him very much after he was gone. She thought Peter had been spoiled, because he never had to take care of the repair jobs.

Violet says that sometimes when they played button-button-so-high they would hide the button on the bald spot on "Doddy's" head, but they were never quite sure what his reaction might be. If their conduct was not acceptable, he was not slow to let them know.

One winter morning just three days after Christmas, Peter was in the house recovering from pneumonia or pluerisy, and Mary and the boys were in the barn doing the chores. Peter had just finished giving "Doddy" his breakfast when he bowed his head and died. Peter called Violet and told her to go out and call Mary, because he thought "Doddy" had died. Violet grabbed a coat and started for the barn, but dreading to go and give the news she turned to go back to the house. Knowing, however, that she could not return to the house without delivering her message, she again headed for the barn. Daniel was buried in the 19th line cemetery beside Magdalena who had predeceased him by 21 years.

When Peter was a young man, a young girl, named Mary Oesch, came from Hay Township to work for Peter's Uncle Christian just across the road. While Peter was working in the fields and Mary was out watering the calves, they used the opportunity to talk. Peter's Aunt Kate usually saw to it that the conversations did not draw out too long by calling to Mary that the calves were bawling themselves to death. However, Aunt Kate's efforts did not stop Peter from winning Mary for his bride.

A few years after Daniel's death Peter renovated the house. He added a large kitchen and the former kitchen was then used for a living room. The summer kitchen was moved a few feet from the main house, but was still used for summer cooking and eating. The wash house and wood shed were replaced by an addition that extended northward from the main house instead of eastward. The invention of stoves with ovens eliminated the need for the old brick ovens; so the new building did not contain the typical large brick oven. It still contained the kettle stove, however, that was used for heating water for the family laundry, butchering and soap-making.

During these times many tramps roamed the roads; so Peter enclosed part of the large porch on the south side of the house. This was called the tramp room. It had no windows, and after the tramp had been given a hearty meal and was ready for bed, Peter led him to the tramp room and locked the door behind him. In the morning Peter unlocked the door, Mary gave him something to eat, and the tramp was on his way again. Peter's house became a regular stopping place for these transients.

In the early 1920's Peter bought his first automobile. When the purchase of a car was first talked about in the family, the children claimed that if "Pop" bought a car they would turn somersault on the roof. No doubt they knew about the difficulty Peter had when he bought his first buggy with a top. On the side of the buggy was painted a beautiful red rose. Daniel had Peter paint it black, hoping his son would receive some consideration. However, Peter was still placed under the lesser ban¹ because of the top on the buggy. It seems, however, that by the time Peter bought a car the ban was not used on the owners of cars. The car made it possible for the family to make more frequent visits to town and indulge in that new and very delectable food, called ice cream. Spending money in Peter's family, however, was always at a minimum.

For some time Peter had been suffering from a heart ailment and had been told to take it easy. Peter, however, continued to farm. Short rest periods had to suffice, and when back on the job he would have to run to make up for lost time. In the late summer and fall of 1942 a pain in his leg forced him to slow down. Too late it was discovered that it was a blood clot caused by poor circulation. Gangerine had se in, and the leg had to be amputated. Peter spent the winter in the wheel chair, then learned to walk with crutches and canes and an artificial leg. He also learned to drive the car again. Peter died in the house in which he was born almost four years after Mary had passed away. They are buried in the East Zorra cemetery.

¹The lesser ban excludes one from taking part in Communion. The greater ban is complete excommunication from the Church. Amish and Amish Mennonites use the ban a great deal as a means of church discipline. Unfortunately, the ban has often been used to prevent cultural changes rather than to deal with sin in the Church.

DANIEL L. AND MAGDALENA (ZEHR) BRENNEMAN FAMILY HISTORY

All of Barbara's family are living in the East Zorra area and are members of the East Zorra churches. Annie's husband, Menno Kuepfer, was a minister in the East Zorra church. Their only son, Edward, lives in Kitchener. Peter's family is spread from London to Kitchener. Some are members of the Mennonite Church, others are members of other denominations. The author and compiler of this history and genealogy (a daughter of Violet mentioned earlier) is a teacher, a graduate of Goshen College, and has served two terms as missionary-teacher in Honduras, Central America under the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities.

JACOB L. AND MAGDALENA (STEINMAN) BRENNEMAN FAMILY HISTORY

Jacob L. Brenneman settled on a farm (lot 17, con. 4) in SouthEasthope. The farm passed to Jacob's daughter and son-in-law, Barbara and Joel Erb and then to Barbara and Joel's daughter and son-in-law, Saloma and Dan Brenneman. Saloma's youngest son, Lester is now in the home farm.

Jacob married Magdalena Steinman who was born in Bavaria. Evidently her family had migrated considerabl later than the Brenneman family and many others. Jacob was the first of Jacob and Lydia's sons to pass away at only 47 years of age.

Jacob and Magdalena had only two daughters. Most of their descendents live in the Tavistock area. A few live in Kitchener, Wellesley and other points. Most of them are members of the Mennonite Church. Some are members of other denominations.

LYDIA BRENNEMAN AND CHRISTIAN ROI FAMILY HISTORY

Lydia and Christian moved to a farm in East Zorra, lot 25, con. 14. His youngest son, Norman, had the farm until he retired. Frank Baer, not a member of the Brenneman family, is now occupying the farm. Both Lydia and Christian lived to be 72 years old. Their descendents are scattered from Woodstock to Wellesley. Emerson's descendents are members of other denominations, but many of the other families are members of the Menonite Church.

Jacob divided his farm on the 19th concession of East Zorra for his sons, John and Joseph. John was already using the buildings; so Joseph built another house and barn. All but the two youngest children were born here. This farm is now occupied by Henry Yantzi. Joseph later moved to lot 25, con. 13 also in East Zorra. This farm is now owned by Elroy Schwartzentruber.

All of Joseph's six children except Ida and William died while very young. Matilda (Tilda on the tombstone) died of diphtheria when four years of age. Descendents of the Joseph Brenneman family will be carried on through William's adopted daughter, Ada. All are members of the Mennonite Church.

CHRISTIAN L. AND CATHERINE (ROTH) BRENNEMAN FAMILY HISTORY

For most of this information I am indebted to Adeline Steinman, granddaughter of Christian L. Brenneman.

Christian was born, lived and died on the home place (lot 5, con. 2 South-Easthope). He was about 23 years old when the last service of the East Zorra congregation was held in his father's barn. Three years after the building of the church he married Catherine Roth.

As in his brother Jacob's family, only girls were born into the home. The second generation also bore only girls. From the birth of David, Christian's youngest brother in 1866 to the birth of Christian's greatgrandson in 1941-- a period of 75 years-- there were no males born on the Brenneman home place.

All of Christian's descendents live in the New Hamburg area and are members of the Mennonite Church.

MAGDALENA BRENNEMAN AND DANIEL SCHWARTZENTRUBER FAMILY HISTORY

For this information I am indebted to Idella Schwartzentruber, granddaughter of Magdalena and Daniel.

After their marriage Magdalena and Daniel lived on the home farm for a while. Then they moved to lot 32, con. 16 of East Zorra. (Barbara and John H. Bender occupied the western half of lot 32, Magdalena and Daniel, the eastern part.) Their son Jacob had the farm until he retired. Elmon Bender now occupies the farm.

Although Magdalena was the second youngest in her family, she was the first to pass away when only 32 years old. She went to bed well on a Friday evening, took very sick with a heart attack and died the next morning. Jacob was nine and Catherine only seven when they lost their mother.

Jacob's wife and daughter live in Tavistock. Catherine's family live in the Milverton area. All are members of the Mennonite Church. The Brenneman family as a whole has not gone in for much higher education, but in this family all of the third generation (there are only 3) are either in the teaching or nursing professions.

The following description (except the last paragraph) of life in David's time was contributed by Amos Brenneman, only son of David and Elizabeth.

"My father, David L. Brenneman, was born Nov. 17, 1866, and passed to his reward on Dec. 8, 1955 at the age of 89 years. He was at this time the oldest member of the East Zorra congregation, which he joined in his youth. On Dec. 1, 1887 he was married to Elizabeth Zehr who died on Dec. 15, 1916 at the age of 46. To this union were born one son (the writer) and four daughters. On Nov. 20, 1917 he was married to Catherine Yantzi who passed away July 16, 1961 at the age of 81 years. My father farmed a 60-acre farm on the 19th concession of East Zorra from the time of his first marriage until his retirement in 1933. He then moved to a 2-acre home part of lot 28, con. 1, Wilmot Township where he lived until his death. (Serenus Schwartzentruer now occupies the farm on the 19th concession. Earl Bender occupies the home in Wilmot Township.)

Farming in my father's day was still the slow, hard way. The grain was cut and tied by hand. Later a swather-type machine was used but the grain was still tied by hand. My father's second binder was bought in 1914. This had the sheaf-carrying attachment which was a good labor-saver. All hay on our farm was pitched and loaded by hand until 1920 when we first bought a loader. The barn on our farm was built in 1860, and it was all made of hand-trimmed timbers. In 1902 my father had an implement shed built and removed the back part of the barn which had been used as an implement and horse-power shed. This horse power was at one time used for the threshing, grain chopping and corn cutting. It was arranged for five teams of horses.

Threshing day in my school days, 1901 to 1908, was always a big event, and I could usually stay home from school. It was quite a sight for us to see the procession come down the road and in the lane. There would be the steam engine for which a big pile of wood had to be readied in advance. Next in line would be the big water tank to supply water for the engine and then the big thresher.

This thresher was the old straw-carrier type. The thresher gang would consist of about fourteen men. There would be the engineer, the man looking after the machine, one man to cut the band on the sheaves, one man to feed the grain into the machine, three men to pitch sheaves from the mow to the machine, four or five men to move the straw which would come up the carrier from the machine to an overhead platform. From there it would be moved from man to man to thus build an outside stack or fill the empty mow. It would also take two men to carry the grain to the granary plus a general overseer. This would generally be the farmer whose grain was being threshed.

The machine would start at 7, and at 9:30 it was a pleasure to help my mother bring out a big basket of fresh doughnuts and lots of hot coffee for a 15-minute break. In the afternoon there would a break with a basket of harvest apples. Three men with the machine would always stay overnight and have the machine ready for the next day. This would mean having the three men for the breakfast of fried potatoes, ham and eggs. Dinner for fourteen men consisted of roast beef, coldslaw, cake and pie. Supper for the whole gang was another full-course dinner.

In about 1909 my father had one of the first concrete silos built in our community. This was all done by hand mixing, and the wheel barrows of concrete were hauled to a platform built around the outside of the silo by a horse. Filling silo was also a big day requiring four teams to bring in the corn. One three-horse team was used to haul the corn binder. Four men to pitch the corn on the wagons, three men to tramp the corn in the silo, one man on the cutting box and the engineer-- a total of fourteen men to feed plus room to stable about twelve horses.

Farming in the early days of my father's time was quiet and peaceful. A trip to town was made about every second week and all groceries, dry goods and hardware were bought at the general store on a barter system. The merchant would take such produce as butter, lard, homemade applebutter, dried apples, small fruits, eggs, dressed chickens, cured meats, potatoes, etc. At the end of the year a final settlement would be made, and if my folks had anything to their credit this would be carried on the next year's business.

My father did considerable reading. He received a weekly German paper from Kitchener, the local weekly paper and a German religious paper from Winnipeg. Since he did not use glasses until later in his life, he was much interested in better lights. Our first improvement was a mantle light. This was a kerosene lamp with a special mantle which gave a very bright, white light with the result that some neighbours driving past came in to see what was going on. In 1920 we installed our own electric plant. This was run by a small coal-oil engine. This engine was used to pump water for the stock and would at the same time run a generator to charge the sixteen large, storage batteries. This gave us a 32-volt plant. We had to use special lamp bulbs and electric motors. My father, however, changed the system over to hydro as soon as it was available.

My father never had a bicycle, car or tractor, and he was about the last one to go to church with a horse and buggy in the East Zorra congregation. He always had good carriage horses, and due to the small farm he never kept the heavy type. His horses were always in good shape but on different occasions became uncontrollable. On one occasion he had a team of young horses on a two-seated carriage. On the way home from church, while stopping to let a cousin off at her home and with other teams passing, the one horse jumped causing the double tree to rub against the steel tire of the wheel. This scared both horses. My father could not hold them back before side-swiping a milkstand which was very close to the road. Hitting this stand threw my father, mother and two older sisters out of the carriage, and the horses broke away from the carriage. Catching up to a buggy they hit it and came to a stop, but the horse of the buggy which they hit broke away and ran home. My mother received a sore ankle from this fall, and I do not think she was ever as healthy again although this happened six or seven years before her death.

My father preferred a quiet, peaceful life rather than riches. On different occasions he turned down quite interesting offers on neighboring farms which would have increased his income. He was a very conservative man in his spending, and it was only in the last few years of his life that he enjoyed indoor plumbing and radio. He could not enjoy television on account of his poor eyesight in the later years. My father was also very firm in his belief on church doctrines, and he was usually the last to give in to changes in things that were at one time against church rules. Such things were buttons on men's coats, neckties, fur caps and coats, bicycles, top-buggies, music in the home, etc. However, he was always ready for improvements such as hydro and the telephone as soon as they were available."

All of David's children are still living. The only son, Amos, and a daughter live in Kitchener. Two daughters live in Tavistock and one lives in Baden. The majority of the members of this family belong to the Mennonite Church.
